Despatch From Ottawa Says Sifton Intends to Dissolve and Go to the Country—Many Hazards in But a Single Wire—Rumor Intimates That Conditions of Waterways Contract Must be Carried Out

Ottawa, Dec. 9.—There is a well advertised rumor afloat on Parliament Hill to the effect that Premier Sifton of Alberta intends to dissolve the provincial legislature in the very near future and appeal to the people on the question of the proposed Great Waterways railway. The rumor is supposed to have emanated from a cabinet minister who is in close touch with the present political situation in Alberta.

The explanation for such a political rumormongering is advanced through the belief that Mr. Sifton will personally advise the Justice department at Ottawa that his government is bound to carry out any monetary transactions properly made and entered into by the preceding government.

INTEREST SLACK IN CIVIC FIGHT

Eleven Candidates for Aldermanic Honors Find Electorate Very Apathetic

Unless Something Occurs to Rouse Citizens Not Many Will Go to Polls

To date but very little interest has been displayed by the electorate in the municipal campaign which is now being waged by the eleven candidates for aldermanic honors. Compared with preceding years the meetings were sparsely attended and the questions and answers, which hitherto gave spice to the meetings have been entirely lacking. To date only one question of any importance has been put to the candidates and that was regarding their attitude on whether the new market building should be located.

There is a state of apathy regarding the entire campaign and unless some candidate breaks loose with a statement which will arouse the electors it is very evident that one of the lightest votes in the history of the municipality will be polled on Monday next.

MAY NOT YET ISSUE MUNICIPAL STOCK

The right to issue municipal stock has been denied Edmonton this year by the legislature, the clause in the Edmonton bill relating to stock having been cut out yesterday. Many other clauses have been cut out, to make the bill as short as possible. The bill passed committee of the whole last evening, and will be read a third time on Monday.

(The elimination of the municipal stock clauses is a disappointment to the city commissioners and council, who have been working for this amendment through this year, in order to open stock books next year.)

HERE TO PROTEST CHANGE OF NAME

Rev. Dr. Kirby of New Calgary College Objects to Any Other Name

Rev. W. W. Kirby, of Calgary, who is principle of the new Calgary college, founded by prominent Methodists, but intended as a non-sectarian college, is in the city today, accompanied by Dr. Blow, one of the incorporators, to arrange for the changing of the name of the college, made necessary by the fact that the legislature has reduced the proposed Calgary university to a college, and named it the Calgary College. Although the promoters of the new Methodist college have been working for some months under the name of the Calgary college, they will be required to change their title. Rev. Principal Kirby stated to the Capital last evening, that it would be a difficult matter to change a name, and would not give the impression that the college was a sectarian which impressed the business community as a widespread circulation.

INTERURBAN IS JUST A RAILWAY

Rights to Develop Power and Mine Coal Taken Away By Committee

The Edmonton Interurban Railway, by its bylaws which were put through yesterday in its charter, re-scrip of all rights to develop power and mine coal taken away from the company for their own use. This is rather a stiff blow to the rights of the company, as they have secured a franchise from the town of St. Albert to supply electric light and power, and it is well known that the company have purchased large coal areas near St. Albert, for the purpose of generating power. It will not be necessary for the promoters to form separate companies for these purposes.

The company's bill has passed the railway committee and will probably be carried to the city council today. The company is to have a line completed from Edmonton to St. Albert, and they have secured the next day are given powers to build lines radiating from Edmonton in all directions and intend to have a large number of these lines completed within the next two years. The company is backed up by a strong syndicate of Montreal capitalists.

ITAL STORE REET BUILDING

ESTIMATES FOR 1911. The following estimates were brought down in the legislature this afternoon. Total estimated revenue is $6,603,177. This includes the $2,455,433 balance from A. & G. W. bond issue after deducting amounts to be provided for and estimated surplus 1910. The total amounts chargeable to public works capital account $1,643,333. For purchase and equipment of new demonstration plans, $25,000. Publicity work, $25,000. Telephone, to capital account, $742,695.

BIG DEAL IN COAL LANDS AT LIGNITE

Three Thousand Acres Near Lacombe Bought by East and West Capitalists

A company of Eastern and Western coal barons have secured 3,000 acres of coal lands in the vicinity of the town of Lignite, 25 miles east of Lacombe on the G.T.P. Senator Peter Talbot of Lacombe is mentioned in connection with the deal. It has been known that vast lignite coal deposits exist in this district and the surface crops indicate heavier and richer coal at great depths. There are three shafts on the north side of the river from which a fine quality of coal is being taken and supplied to the farmers and merchants in the district and surrounding country. The G.T.P. construction crews are using some of this coal on the bridge work, and it is said to be of good quality.

ASK RATEPAYERS CONSENT FIRST

Interurban Company Must Put Question to Vote Before Using Any City's Streets

An amendment which will require the Edmonton Interurban company to secure ratification of ratepayers in all towns and cities, before carrying forward any of their works, with respect to those towns and cities, has been introduced in that company's charter, by the efforts of City Solicitor Brown, and Mayor Lee of Edmonton. Formerly the charter gave the right to the council of any town or city to make agreements with the company without the agreement being referred to the ratepayers. The new amendment will make it necessary to secure the agreement of the ratepayers.

OUR NEW RESIDENT ENGINEER IS HERE

F. G. Goodspeed, who is to be a resident Dominion government engineer, in Edmonton, in charge of all Dominion government public works that are going on in this part of the west, reached the city last night and is a guest at the Alberta.

Mr. Goodspeed will shortly open up offices in the city. He is the first resident engineer that has been installed in Edmonton, the work having been supervised formerly from Calgary.

Mr. Goodspeed is to have charge of the construction of the government works at the Grand Rapids and the Leech Lake Slave river, that is now in progress.

WHAT THEY SAY

Mayor Elect Armstrong: "I do not know of a single place in Canada where the tenants' franchise is not recognized with the exception of this city. No evil can come from it in that they will not be allowed to vote on money by-laws and as a consequence could not jam any legislation through which would imperil the credit of the city."

Ald. McKimley: "I can't do anything any harm."

Ald. Landy: "I do not care to give a snap verdict, now as I have not thoroughly considered the question."

Ald. Mould: "I have not given it much thought but I will say that a longer term of residence than one month should be required."

Alex. Stuart, K.C. candidate for alderman: "The tenants should be given the right to vote on everything except money by-laws."

A. E. Potter, aldermanic candidate: "I have not given the question sufficient thought to express my views."

Charles Gowen, Riverside league candidate: "My honest opinion is that the bill is all right and should pass. The tenants are entitled to a vote."

G. H. May, aldermanic candidate: "Just what I have been fighting for. They pay taxes indirectly and should be given some say in the management of the city."

morning papers, saw something about tenants' franchise, sat up, rubbed their eyes and looked again. What they saw gave them the greatest surprise of their lives.

They had left the city charter amendments in the hands of the municipal committee, and Hon. Mr. Cross, yesterday morning, all ready to report. They woke up this morning to find that the tenant franchise had been included in the bill.

HARD WINTER FOR PROS.

Ottawa Hockey Club Absolutely Refused to Go Above the Salary Limit.

Ottawa, Dec. 9.—With a sweeping refusal of all the demands of the Ottawa Hockey club players that body at a meeting which was held yesterday afternoon took a stand against the held out hockeyists, practically ignoring the stars who made their name in the N. H. L. last season, and concurring the announcement several days ago that the Ottawa will at once build up a team regardless of the actions of the outlawed hockey stars.

Mr. Goodspeed is to have charge of the construction of the government works at the Grand Rapids and the Leech Lake Slave river, that is now in progress.

Nine-tenths of our taxation is paid by land owners, and the basis of taxation is land. We have no objection to the elimination of the income tax; but we do not want to give the right of vote to any person who happens to have lived in the city a month.

VOL. I NO. 285

OIL CO. NOW COVERS CLAIM

The latest development in the oil situation is that no less than $400,000 has come through from Vancouver within the past 24 hours to take up licenses applied for, covering two whole townships surrounding the location of the Canadian-American drilling rig in the Morinville field. The names of the principles who are putting up the money is not known, but the stock brokerage firm which is handling the business is Cavanaugh & McQueen.

It is understood that a large amount of money for the purpose of covering the options has been taken up at once. Of the 100 claims filed a great many of these were taken by the company. On each claim $100 has to be paid before a month is out. This means that a good many thousands of dollars will find their way into the Dominion land office within the next week, if the company cover the options in the required time.

tory of Edmonton, a page which records the first victory in the fight of the tenants and the working classes for representation at the municipal polls, was written in committee of the whole house in the legislature last evening, though but few were aware of the fact.

By an amendment introduced last evening by Hon. C. W. Cross, in committee of the whole house, Edmonton tenants, with a resident qualification of one month, will have the right to vote at municipal elections.

The real meaning of the word "ratepayer" is exemplified. Tenants who have paid the rates on public utilities, but who have not had property qualifications will now have a real and effective voice in the affairs of the city.

For five long years the working classes of the city, as represented by the unions, have fought for the tenant franchise. It has been the plank in the platform of many an unsuccessful municipal candidate who swore to uphold the principle if elected. It has been refused by the city council and the legislature for those five years, and it remained for C. W. Cross, the senior member for Edmonton, to introduce the bill which gives the franchise to the whole, the class necessary to extend municipal franchise to that great mass of citizens who have hitherto been denied the right to vote.

Mr. Cross was waited upon by a delegation of labor men a week ago, with regard to the tenant franchise, when he promised he would do what he could.

Another amendment was also put through by Mr. Cross last night which will bring joy to the labor camps. This is one which eliminates the income tax, a tax which has been a burden on salaried men and wage earners ever since Edmonton has been a city.

Mr. Cross had charge of the Edmonton charter amendments before the house, and put his amendments in when the bill was going through committee last night. The tenant franchise amendment comes in as an amendment to the old Edmonton charter as granted in 1906. It is as follows:

WHISMAN SIGNS WITH ESKIMOS

Joe Cohn of Spokane Will Turn Over This Good Player to the Local Club

Deacon White is satisfied that 'Edmonton' will have a baseball team next season, whether in the Western Canada or the International is not yet certain, and has started to corral a few players.

Yesterday he got lines on a cracking good catcher in one Kussch who has played last season in Akron, Ohio, in a semi-pro league, leading the batters with an average of .380. Deacon has clippings which show that this player is certainly the goods.

As Stuh Spencer will be an absentee next summer, Kussch will fit in very nicely behind the plate and Deak has another receiver billed for a try-out, a college player from the University of Northwestern University, Chicago.

Owing to the unsettled condition of the Western Canada league at present, full particulars cannot be given of the men who will be seen on the Eskimos line-up in most as many of them played last year with teams in this circuit.

Mills will be the only one of the 1910 outfield to return. Bill Latus is too expensive, while Chetty, though still a good batter has slowed up too much to be the garden. Two young players will be secured for center and right. In fact they have already accepted terms.

Jack Brennan will be the only one of last year's infield to wear the grey uniform this coming season. John was not drafted by Dugdale of Seattle, despite all reports to the contrary. Brennan was very highly recommended to the Coast magazine but did not have any great exaggerations to go to the Northwestern. He will again hold down the difficult corner of the diamond and if his bad ankle is right should again be the best third sacker in the league. The new first baseman is a left handed batter and also throws from the post side, but as to his name, "Mums the word."

There is just an outside chance Phil Dellar and Jack Hickey will be with the team again, though Hickey will be the Capital in Calgary at the break up of last season that he had played his last game of baseball. He has a nice farm outside of Seattle, and as his wife is delicate, hates to leave home for such long periods as are necessitated by playing ball. But Deacon is hopeful Jack will re-consider his decision; Hickey the spring comes along.

Joe Cohn, owner of the Spokane club, writes that he is going to turn Whisman over to Edmonton. Whisman is a dandy performer on the mound and is also an outfielder of no mean calibre. Local fans may remember the way he used to drive out batters.

The rest of the pitching staff is problematical at this stage of the game. Dell and Sam Hickey will be hard men to replace, but the old saying, "there are as good fish in the sea as have ever been caught," so Deacon may get some youngsters next season, who will make the fans forget the old favorites.

It is altogether likely a minstrel show will be held in the spring to help the club's finances. There is a great variety of local talent in Edmonton and a show could be made as great a success as the memorable one, four years ago.

CRACK BOWLERS ARE COMING

Spokane Is Sending a Five-Man Team Here to Boom Western Congress

Spokane, Dec. 9.—For the purpose of advertising the Western Bowling Congress which will meet in Spokane some time in March, a picked team of crack bowlers from the city league will make a two weeks' trip through the inland empire and Alberta in February.

It is planned to visit all the towns that have alleys and to play a series of games against picked teams. In this way it is thought more interest will be aroused in the big tournament. No indications point to the best meet ever held by the congress, and every day brings letters to the secretary in regard to entering the tournament.

It is thought the towns in the inland empire will furnish at least thirty teams, and the proposed trip is expected to almost double the number. Most of the outside towns have strong fives and it is shown that they are fast enough to be in the big tournament. Spokane team it will be in incentive for the teams to try for the big prizes.

RESULTS IN THE Y.M.C.A. LEAGUE

The Wholesalers Took Two Games From The Business Men

The wholesalers took two in three from the Business Men in the Y.M.C.A. bowling league last night. Hal Morgan's men won the first two games with great ease and looked like winners in the third up to the end of the fifth frame. The Business Men then rallied valiantly, a succession of strikes turning the deficit into victory by 5 pins.

High single strings were: Jackson, 180; Harmer, 101; Morgan, 106.

The scores were:

This will be welcome news to the supporters of the Deacons, though not unexpected, as the Capital announced a few days ago that they would be re-instated.

TWO AMENDMENTS TO THE EDMONTON CHARTER

By virtue of two amendments submitted by C. W. Cross in the committee of the whole last night, the Edmonton charter now gives tenants the right to vote at municipal elections and abolishes the Income Tax.

The amendments mark the most advanced legislation that has been added to the Edmonton charter since it was first drawn, and the beneficiaries owe tribute of thanks to the senior member for Edmonton.

The injustice inflicted by the charter provision which has heretofore disfranchised those who did not own realty in the city is so manifest that there could be no argument in its favor. For some reason, successive candidates for council have preached and promised tenants' franchise before each election and have consistently forgotten it after elected, until the issue became a byword and almost a source of weakness to the candidate who incorporated it in his platform. This year, as in years past, the council went to the legislature with a long list of amendments, more or less important, but failed to include the tenants' franchise. Had not Mr. Cross submitted the amendment it is altogether likely that it would not have come up in the house at all.

According to the arrangement which disfranchised those who failed to become owners of a piece of property worth two hundred dollars, a man might have been born in Edmonton, reach maturity, pay thousands of dollars into the city treasury and still be debarred from the full rights of citizenship.

A resident of Edmonton might be the head of a family, a householder, a contributor to the receipts of the water, light, telephone, street railway and every utility established or to be established, and still have no vote.

The fact that the taxes charged against the property he occupied were taken from the rent has in the past entitled him to any voice in the government of the affairs of the community.

Were the anticipated business tax abolished, as it undoubtedly must be within the very near future, the tenant might then be a business man holding immense interests in the city and depending for the success of his efforts upon the prosperity and progressiveness of the community, and he would yet have no right to exercise the franchise.

On the other hand, the owner of a suburban lot, who might never have become a resident of Edmonton, who possibly was never closer to Edmonton than Hong Kong or London, Eng., might step off the train on election day, walk to the polling booth and register his vote.

Such an arrangement is so manifestly contrary to the traditions of popular government and autonomy that the great wonder is that the system has been allowed to continue so long and that it finally became necessary for the city's first representative in the legislature to take the initiative in securing a reform which it was clearly the duty of the council to call for.

The other amendment to the charter, also moved by Mr. Cross, by which the income tax is abolished, is also along the line of advanced legislation—a move in the right direction.

The income tax, as it has been applied in Edmonton, has always been a double tax. It is admitted by all who have given the matter even the slightest scrutiny that no resident can escape the direct land tax, even though he might never own a foot of property. The mere fact that he was a resident on land that was taxed made him a contributor, through the price charged for his meals, if in no other way. But the non-resident, on the contrary, who derived income from the ownership of Edmonton securities other than titles to land, escaped the income tax altogether. The burden was unfair and should have been abolished long ago.

These two amendments are in the line of progress and will do a great deal toward making a better, more progressive, prouder Edmonton, will broaden and uphold the spirit of citizenship and will give a new interest in the community to hundreds and thousands who have heretofore been disfranchised or unfairly taxed.

MR. CUSHING'S ABSENCE FROM THE HOUSE

Unless the illness which kept Mr. Cushing out of the house yesterday is something more violent than a bad attack of cold feet, his absence will not be likely to heighten the opinion of him by those who look for an explanation of the many and apparently devious deals in which he was mixed up while acting as cabinet minister.

Mr. Cushing's actions throughout the whole affair have not been those of a man who had a clear conscience or a clear record. He has consistently absented himself from the spot where there was danger of his affairs being brought into question, and he has as consistently refused to have anything to say, either to the newspapers or to his friends, when a few words might clear him if he is in a position to speak the words.

JUST PARAGRAPHS.

Is Mr. Cushing's cold attributable to a draft or a draught?

According to the new arrangement, the fellows who pay the car fare will have just as good a right to vote as the chap who rides in the automobile.

While he was in Detroit, the home of the automobile and the bridge officials, Mr. Cushing should have purchased for himself a few pairs of overalls.

Toronto people are rioting because the street railway company compels them to ride in pay-as-you-enter cars. The vagaries of the barbarous east are beyond all understanding.

The Seattle doctor who sent an automobile agent through an endless forest, clad in snow and ice, to far away Edmonton, beyond the confines of civilization, is surely an evidence of the corollary influence of the primitive-savagery orientation on the Caucasian race. Those kind of dreams can only originate in the can with the yellow label.

The society for the prevention of cruelty to animals wants Emperor William to stop the sculptors representing him as riding on a horse with a deerskin tail. While they are at it, they might order a certain amount of mental anguish on the part of the human animal by asking Emperor William to have the statues placed somewhere where they could not be seen at all.

ONE THING THAT

SLAVERY DID

From the Kansas City Star: Had it not been for the institution of slavery in the United States it is probable that there would have been no Mexican revolution for President Diaz to be fighting about. It is quite evident from a review of American history that immediately following the Mexican War, that the fear of the extension of slavery alone prevented the United States from taking what President Polk called "all indemnity" from Mexico. Full indemnity meant taking all of Mexico.

The extension of slavery had become a live political issue as early as 1845, and in 1847, with the United States occupying the City of Mexico there was a general demand for this country to hold what territory the war had given it. Buchanan and the politicians of that day spoke about annexing all of Mexico, as "the obligation to fulfill the destiny which the Almighty had intended for the two countries."

But the north recovered from its zeal for annexation in time to realize that the annexation of Mexico meant the extension of American slavery. The "Wilmot proviso" was defeated because it was intended to prevent slavery from following the flag, and the practical certainty that slavery would have followed the flag into Mexico saved that country for the Mexicans; for the Mon.adero and President Diaz.

But now the question arises whether the United States owes an acknowledgment to slavery for "favors rendered" in the matter of keeping it out of Mexico. Perhaps even the cynic would admit that there was something to praise in the institution of slavery after all. It was the one thing that kept the Mexican revolutionaries from the United States. The primary law was adopted. Inasmuch as slavery itself is dead, credit for defeat-Mexican behavior since, may create a better feeling for its memory.

"IN GOD'S COUNTRY"

It Appears That it is Wherever a Man is Not

From Kansas City Star: About the only thing that teaches us to appreciate what we have, is not having it. Mamma Eye and Papa Adam didn't think so much of the Garden of Eden until they had been put out by the alley entrance and the key clicked the lock behind their backs. By the same token, when a person gets away from home and has to eat heavily armored French rolls instead of feather-weight hot biscuits he discovers that the country he has deserted is the Garden Spot of the World. Of course, when he lived there and he considered it a sort of living range he climbed out of. From any other address it is God's own country.

During one of our world's fairs a reporter was buzzing about the grounds, garnering interviews and opinions on this America from the different parts of the world. He went to an Eskimo who had come from a country where tobacco sauce freezes an idle polar bear over our cuffs. "Don't you think this is a pretty slick little country we have here?" he demanded.

"Gallala dum dumi" answered the Eskimo disgustedly, and he took a quoniam as though to take a better taste from his mouth. "Umptia raree pooh hah!" Which being freely interpreted means:

"The worst I ever saw! The minute my contraband runs out I'm going back to Greenland—to God's country."

Passing around after having noted the above, our interviewer accosted a dusky Arab, who hailed from a desert where a hundred degrees in the shade is considered a cold wave and call out the heavy furs.

"This is the worst country I ever saw!" remarked the Arab. "If I don't make enough money here to ride back to the Sahara Desert I'll walk until I reach the nearest ocean and then swim for it. That's God's country—the Garden spot of the World." And to it goes.

There comes a period in the life of every man—usually when he arrives at the mature age of 20—when he wants to pull up and go to some distant place where he has a chance and can become a millionaire, as befits his ability. Everyone should obey the impulse and get it out of the system. If you don't you never lose it. If you do, you will either move back home and be contented, or you make good in the city and arrive at the dead level of owning one of these half-and-half houses like every one else in the block, and attending a vaudeville show on Sunday afternoon.

This law was working one day last week with two men who stood on the platform of a small town railway station near Kansas City. One of them had his board in a shoe box and his clothes in a telescope. Every now and then he observed by the face of his watch how slowly time can fly before a train comes. Between looks he talked to the native who had come to tell him goodbye.

"Back to Texas for mine?" said the one with the ticket. The people around here are too easy. Now in Texas as people are wise. Why, I could have a bucket of whitewash and calcine pennies in this own and pass 'em off for dimes. I'd like to own the chair factory over there and get new ones and begin making wooden money. They'd take it all at the bank. Back to God's country for mine."

"Yes!" smiled the satisfied native. He had obeyed the impulse years ago and had settled down with a cheerful little wife and a colub. "You're colub, or blint. This is the garden spot of the world that you are leaving. I've been in Texas and tried one of those fabulous jobs where you only work from 9 o'clock in the morning until noon and get $3 a day for it. And I had to come home in a boxcar with a travelling companion who left with my shoes while I was asleep. I think he said he was from Texas. I've got a pretty good home here and am one of the finest lots in the cemetery over behind the hill. It's a mighty good place to live in—and it'll be just as easy to die here as anywhere else. I wouldn't give you my chicken yard for the state of Texas."

Q. R. D. There is no place like home—when you get away from it.

BABE CLYNES

The Calgary team is represented in the sunny south by Babe Clynes, who is doing good work for the San Diego team at the present time. Babe in the opening game against the Los Angeles team, cracked out a three-bagger, which put the game on ice for his team and also made himself solid with the fans. This is Babe's fourth winter down here and he has grown to be a favorite—Calgary Herald.

"LET'S GET 8 OR 6"

(Leithbridge Herald.)
A Calgary millionaire visited Leithbridge yesterday. It was our friend Chester Eugene Cox. "Chester" says: "Forget the past and live in the future." Chester was alluding to the differences which cropped up between himself and the Leithbridge baseball fans during the past season.

It might be said that there is no animosity here towards Chester. Everyone is glad to shake a home in Leithbridge any time he chooses.

O! SO SARCASTIC.

Some misguided—or mouthy—native of Vancouver threatens to take Vancouver and Westminster teams to the Olympic games in Sweden, and incidentally play before all the crowned heads and ex-crowned heads in Europe. He forgets one little thing, however, and that is that the team mentioned are pros, whereas the Olympic games are amateurs. Of course, he may mean that Vancouver team that cried because it couldn't lift the Mann Cup. But surely not. It would not be nice to take those youngsters far from their mummies—Toronto Telegram.

Clothing and Furnishings

Clothing and Furnishings

THIS Sale is causing destruction to prices never before seen or heard tell of in the history of Edmonton. All attempts at opposition completely set aside. Even the other merchants are becoming astonished as they learn the extent of the great reductions which Beshears Bros. & Co. have made on this up-to-date stock of Clothing and Furnishings. We will say positively right now that we cannot or will not deviate one iota from our original plans. Mac's entire stock will be Closed Out at whatever it will "fetch" within the shortest possible time. The prices on every article in the store are being sacrificed. Our contract does not call for profit, it calls for the bare walls, which must be reached by December 25th. The entire store is a glow of glittering bargains.

CANDIDATES ASK VOTES ON SIMILAR QUESTIONS

CASE OF PICK BEST MAN IN TWO STRATHCONA WARD ELECTIONS—ALL CANDIDATES APPARENTLY FAVOR ANNEXATION—NEWS NOTES FROM THE LISTER CITY.

(By Our Own Reporter.)

Strathcona, Dec. 9.—In wards two and four in the civic aldermanic contest there has developed the rather unusual circumstance of opposition, candidates appealing to the electors on practically the same platform of politics. This phase of the present election campaign was the cause of lengthy discussion at a recent meeting of the Ratepayers' association, it being argued that where rival council candidates arose under the same politics in any one ward it should be the business of the association committee in that ward to arrange if possible for a withdrawal of all but one candidate of those meeting with the approval of the association, so that the organization vote might be cast undivided. This proposal, however, was poorly received by the majority of the members and no action was taken in the matter, it being held that the people were entitled to as many candidates as they liked.

In ward two the candidates are R. J. Macdonald and W. E. Rankin. On the amalgamation question, which appeared to be the main issue in the present campaign, the opinions of both these gentlemen are much the same, both being in favor of union with Edmonton at a date in the not too distant future, when satisfactory terms for Strathcona can be obtained. Their views on opening up negotiations appear to be almost identical in this issue. Mr. Rankin stands as one of the ticket of the so-called "Progressives," headed by Mr. Arthur Davies, now mayor, by acclamation.

Ward five presents a situation of similar character. Here A. L. Brick and J. J. Radford (Progressive nominee) are rival candidates. In speaking to the Capital both Mr. Brick and Mr. Radford have expressed themselves as believers in the advantages of amalgamation, and both favor taking steps to secure outside advice and information without delay. Neither are in a hurry for union and Mr. Radford has his doubts that concessions which he considers Strathcona should have, can be secured from Edmonton.

It will thus be seen that the election of any of these candidates will depend largely upon the popularity of the man, not upon the popularity of the policy. Loughlin is the Progressive ticket nominee in ward three, and he strongly favors amalgamation. In his opponent Mr. A. McLean it is not thought that the electors will find an instantly inclined to immediate amalgamation. The majority of the members of the Ratepayers' association, have pledged their support to the "Progressive" candidates at Monday's poll, although the first regular meeting refused to register an endorsement of these nominees.

Herbert Booth to Lecture. A lecture of more than ordinary importance will be given in the Metrodian Methodist church on the evening of December 21st. Mr. H. Herbert Booth, youngest son of General Booth of the Salvation Army, will be here on that occasion to deliver his famous Christmas lecture, "The Early Christmas." This is the lecture that cost $20,000 to produce.

Army Officers Arrive. Since the establishment of Salvation Army barracks in the city last February, the work has steadily expanded to a point where it is now necessary to have resident officers in charge. This afternoon there will arrive from Neepawa, Man., Capt. Miss Ledman and Lieut. Poth, who will assume this charge. A welcome meeting will be given them tonight in the barracks with Ensign Haldick present from Edmonton to lead in the services. The Salvation Army band will assist in the proceedings.

Local Lines.

The second address delivered in Strathcona by Dr. R. P. Mackay, of Toronto, Foreign Mission secretary of the Presbyterian church in Canada, was given before the University students Tuesday afternoon. Dr. Mackay is one of the ablest men engaged in foreign missionary work and his remarks to the students were deeply interesting. Last Sunday evening Dr. Mackay preached at Knox church in connection with the anniversary celebration.

The big brigade band have commenced arrangements for the appearance in the opera house next Tuesday evening of the famous Ferguson's

Double Jubilee singers. This will be the third concert company playing here under the auspices of the band this winter, it being the intention of that organization to raise money for new uniforms.

OSTEOPATHY WAS TALK PRODUCER

What is osteopathy, and should osteopaths be classed with medical men, and should they be allowed to practice in the province under the medical association act, and is the medical association a monopoly, as charged by the legislature?

Several members there were yesterday, when the second reading was called for the amendment to the medical association act allowing osteopaths to practice under that act, was brought up, who attempted to tell the legislature what they knew of osteopathy in general and osteopaths and their relation to the science of medicine.

Consequently the house heard an hour's discussion on the question, when they were endeavoring to decide whether the bill should be allowed to pass, which would bring osteopaths under the medical act, and class them with those who practice the high art of medicine.

Osteopathy is a treatment of the physical frame which is calculated to remove suffering and fatigue. Consequently it is a branch of the medical science, and the medical association of Alberta should not be such a close corporation as to shut out those who practice osteopathy. That is the stand which those members took who supported the bill.

The bill was introduced by Mr. Roberts, of High River, who moved the second reading. Mr. Boyle immediately moved to oppose the bill, saying that he did not agree that osteopaths should be allowed to practice under the medical act. He made the medical act mean anything, it meant that a standard for medical men had been set, and that standard should be adhered to.

Mr. Roberts in support of the bill, charged that the regulations of the medical act were too strict, that all the osteopaths wanted was to be allowed to practice their method of treatment, and to hang out a sign, for which action at present they were liable to arrest.

Dr. Campbell opposed the bill on the ground that it was an absurd measure, in that it did not define osteopaths. Mrs. Gallagher waterpichers, pickles and bed spread; Mrs. Leveque, Kitchen utensils; Mrs. Cashman, the medical association was a monopoly, that it was not successfully dealing with disease in the country, and he quoted many authorities who had stated that the practise of medicine was not the only means of relieving suffering. He supported the bill because he believed it was in the interests of public health, that the mode of treatment should be allowed to be practised. If they could do something to make the suffering of the world less, why not let them do it. He said that osteopathy was a treatment which had been found to be very successful. He said further that it was unwise that the legislature should permit laws to be on the statute book which were constantly and openly violated, and that some legislation should be provided whereby osteopaths would not be violating the law every time they hung out their shingle.

Mr. Puffer also supported the bill, and Mr. Michener asked to have the bill go to committee of the whole where it could be more informally discussed. The bill consequently received its second reading. The bill respecting the Baptist Union in Alberta passed a second time. Third readings—Y. W. C. A. Bill, Edmonton, Calgary, Y. W. C. A. Bill respecting the raising of loans authorized by the legislature, bill to amend the school ordinance, bill respecting the best sugar bonus, and the Great Waterways Bill.

IMPORTANT SESSION EDMONTON EAGLES THIS WEEK

Wherever the Fraternal Order of Eagles is installed the first meeting of December is the meeting set apart for the election of officers for the ensuing full year. The night of election and the night of installation are two nights in which few absentees are recorded in the Aeries.

As a rule no other business is transacted than the election but the Edmonton birds owing to their meeting but twice a month are not satisfied with any short program for a tenor row night's session. Special arrangements for the real old Eagle social session have been made with the new officers with new paraphernalia will initiate several candidates.

With such a protracted program set out it is little wonder that local Eagles and visitors as well are looking forward to the session tomorrow as one of the most important in the history of Alberta Eagles.

Several visiting legions who are new comers in the city will lend a hand at the festivities.

Could Not Rest at Night.

Back Was So Weak.

Weak, lame and aching backs are the primary cause of kidney trouble. When the back aches or becomes weak it is a warning from the kidneys that everything is not right with them.

Heed the warning: cure the weak, lame, aching back and dispose of any chances of further trouble.

If you don't do this, serious complications are very apt to arise and the first thing you know you will be troubled with Dropsy, Diabetes or Bright's Disease, the most deadly forms of kidney trouble.

On the first sign of anything wrong Doan's Kidney Pills should be taken. They go to the seat of the trouble and strengthen the kidneys, thereby strengthening the back.

Mr. John Puig, Parkdale, Man., writes: "I have used Doan's Kidney Pills and find nothing to beat them. I could not rest at night my back was so weak. I tried everything, but could not get anything to do me any good until I was told by a friend to use Doan's Kidney Pills. I tried them and I am not the same weak man I was before. I am very thankful to have found so speedy a cure."

Doan's Kidney Pills are 50 cents per box or 3 for $1.25, at all dealers or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. M. Munn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

If ordering direct specify "Doan's."

FLYERS CAN'T SAIL OVER FACTORIES

New Prussian Rules Intended to Protect Villages—Pilots Need Permits.

Berlin.—The Prussian ministry of the interior has issued a set of rules and regulations governing aerial navigation.

Aerial flights undertaken by persons who have not obtained an official certificate of efficiency as aerial pilots can only be permitted above such land as is unpopulated, and where there is practically no traffic. The local authorities are entrusted with the duty of issuing such permits in particular cases, and they are also empowered to restrict aerial flights to certain hours of the day.

Aerial pilots in possession of their permits are to fly only over uninhabited places. At the same time, the ministry of the interior declares that there ought not to be a general prohibition of flights above inhabited places, which may be permissible in certain cases. Even then, the airman is to be warned of the danger which they cause to those beneath.

Flying over explosive factories, petroleum storerooms, gas works, etc., is strictly prohibited.

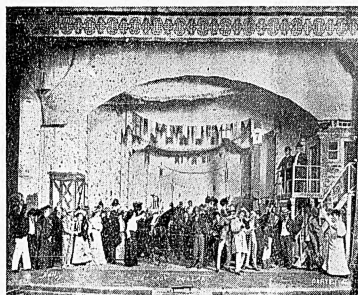

Flights above military fortifications, and within a radius of six miles of such fortifications are only to be allowed if the military authorities have given written permission. Any flight undertaken within six miles of military fortifications without such permission is a criminal offence, and the airman will be punished accordingly.

No passenger may be taken up on a flying machine by pilots who do not possess certificates of efficiency. Pilots may only navigate that machine which they were granted when their certificate was issued to them.

AUTOMOBILE FLUSHERS FOR TORONTO

(From "Popular Mechanic").

Two automobile flushers are now being used for the cleaning of the streets in Toronto. Driven by gasoline power engines, the two machines work in company, one going ahead and loosening the dirt while the second follows about ten minutes later and washes it to one side. A gasoline street can be flushed from curb to curb in one trip, the tanks having a capacity of twelve hundred gallons, and the machine, running at a speed of eight miles an hour while operating.

Scene from "His Last Dollar," at the Empire Tonight and Saturday.

AT THE EMPIRE

A pretty little home in Old Kentucky, an old sport and his famous racing horse. No money, a mortgage on the old home, a pretty daughter, all that is left of a once prosperous family, the old home to be sold by the sheriff. The only way out of the difficulty is to sacrifice the old horse. The daughter takes the old horse to New York City to sell just a few days before the great Futurity is a supposed friend of the jockey runs the money, so that his only hope of money is the old horse. The race is run and, as was usually the case with the famous old horse, he wins, even after an attempt to fix him. The jockey and the little Kentucky girl become fast friends, which ripens into love, and finally a wedding, putting a climax to a play that is entirely different to the usual play. Such is the story of "His Last Dollar" as presented at the Empire last night to a large and enthusiastic audience. "His Last Dollar" will be offered tonight, tomorrow night, the big bargain ladies and children's matinee, and Saturday night for the last time. "Answer" if you must, spend your last dollar to see "His Last Dollar."

HOW TO HAVE VINES.

A Very Attractive Addition for Any Back Yard—The Rules.

(From the Kansas Industrialist).

Vines have an important part in furnishing an attractive home yard. They create graceful, picturesque effects, shade porches and screen objectionable features. Hardy vines, hardy semi-tropical, may be transplanted in the fall with little shock. Three-year-old stock is best for quick results. Good drainage is necessary. Vines should not be planted where water from eaves will pour upon them. Water freezing about the roots will kill them.

In planting, dig a hole a foot or more deep and work a good, rich fertilizer into the bottom soil. The plant should be closely covered with earth, well tamped about the roots. Water regularly until cold weather. Frost is freezing water with a loose covering of straw.

French lilacs should be planted liberally wherever they will serve as a background for lower shrubs or perennials, or in a row along a fence or fence.

The various spiraea are desirable for fall planting. The Anchovy Waterer is a fine climber and the Van Housen a beautiful white variety. These are especially valuable when grown singly on the lawn.

Philips, clematis and clematis should be planted and placed out of doors, covered with earth and left until freezing weather, when they should be scored in the cellar like other bulbs.

At a joint sale of Aberdeen-Angus cattle at Aberdeen, 18 head were sold for an average of $87.

A RAILROAD MAG- NATES HOBBY

(From Leslie's).

One of the foremost men in American public life remarked recently that he has little respect for any man, great or small, who does not love the great outdoors, particularly the quiet and gentlemanly one that Isaac Walton loved. "I never found a first-class man," he said, "who did not devote some of his time to 'staring, free of charge.' It is very possible that the man who said that had Louis W. Hays in mind. When the president of the Great Northern Railroad, which is Mr. Hays, can find time for the piscatorial avocation, lower men of narrower affairs may look to him with awe. At the annual approach of spring the call of the moorings leads him from the crowded markets out under the vast blue, and he is engaged in a sort of old corduroy and top boots, he wanders the hills, extracting with piscatorial dexterity the wily, finned quarry called trout. Visions of solemn directorates fade before scenes of deep-shaded forest re-venge. The proper phrasing of a day outweighs all questions of financial policy in railroad management. There is the true sportsman—the man who forgets that there is anything in the world but a certain deep and shadowed pool wherein a sapient old trout "wise guys" match their cleverness with men.

Mr. Asquith is to have the freedom of Edinburgh conferred on him on Dec. 20.

Umbrellas when wet are generally placed point downwards to dry. This is a mistake, for the water congregates at the point, rots the silk, and makes that part of the frame rusty. To avoid this it is a good plan with a new umbrella to put a very small quantity of vaseline into the hinges by the ferrule. This will prevent rust and will not spread to the silk.

LITTLE LINA WAS SO MISFORTUNATE

Recollections of Lina Cavalieri's Childhood Reveal Stormy Life of Struggle.

SOLD PAPERS AT TWELVE

Beauty Made Her Popular With Fellow-workmen—"She Attracted Prince One Day."

Rome, Dec. 8.—The Cavalieri-Chanler tangle has been regarded here as a tragic incident in Lina Cavalieri's meteoric career, both in the social and theatrical world. Mme. Cavalieri is immensely popular here; she has always been, and she is still, familiarly referred to as "Lina" by whoever happens to speak of her, as it is known she is a Roman girl, and her humble parents never dared to dream of the splendid success which would crown her untiring efforts.

As a child Mme. Cavalieri was anything but lucky; she was not even pretty; but as the years went by, fortune seemed to take a liking to her, while her thickest body moulded itself into a slender figure which gives her such a commanding and distinguished appearance, and her face took that Madonna-like oval which has set so many a heart ablaze.

But lucky as she has turned out to be, Lina's first steps in life were marked by an untold number of misfortunes. She was scarcely twelve when she was set to fold papers in the mailing room of one of the local dailies for a few cents a day.

Defied by Old Prince. She thought then she would never leave the place, but her beauty kept on developing so fast that she soon became popular among her fellow workers, and one day she even attracted the attention of Prince Sciarra, who thought that so beautiful a girl should be given at least one chance to shake off the hard fate of the mailing room slave.

The Prince was a kind old man, and he offered, through the mailing room foreman, to pay for her education. She was beautiful and had some voice, although not much of it. It was thought then that with a little training she could make a decent living on the stage, and little Lina left the mailing room with her parents' consent.

When her friends heard of her again she was on the stage of a second-class music-hall, where she was admired more for her perfect features than for her voice. But like her beauty, her voice kept on increasing in volume and improving in quality as she sang, and one day the same director informed her that with a little more training and some hard work she could easily become a prima donna.

But high-class musical training is very expensive in Italy, and what the young Miss Cavalieri was then making on the concert hall stage was hardly enough to support her and her poor parents, who by this time were entirely dependent upon her for a scanty living. Who was to help her this time? Luck, in the shape of another nobleman, this time a Marquis, came again her way, and this is what happened:

One night a young man called at the music hall and invited Miss Cavalieri and several other girls to a little supper. She accepted, and at the restaurant she was introduced to Marquis Carlo Di Rudini, whose father was then president of the cabinet. One evening several years ago, the Marquis, who was then visiting New York, told this story himself to a party of friends while dining at Martin's.

Broke the Bank at Monte Carlo. The gentlemen present wanted to know how he happened to break the bank at Monte Carlo, and their surprise can be easily imagined when Marquis Di Rudini told them the one who really broke the bank was Miss Cavalieri. "At the conclusion of that little supper in Rome," the Marquis said, "I happened to mention the fact that the day after I would leave for Monte Carlo to try my luck at the wheel, and Miss Cavalieri suggested that I take her there, as she would bring me some luck. 'Are you sure of that?' I asked. 'So sure,' Mme. Cavalieri answered, 'that I want to chip in to buy the first stake.'"

"Right she was. That time I broke the bank, clearing over one hundred thousand dollars in a few hours. I gave my mascot ten thousand dollars and she left right away for Paris."

Once more Miss Cavalieri disappeared from the public eye, spending three long years studying hard to fit herself for the lyric stage. When she thought she was ready, it dawned upon her that a girl needed more than a good voice and good features to win the imperious support for her bet, but luck had not deserted her as yet, and two more princes, both Russian, came to her help. One of them was Prince Troubetzky, and the other Prince Dolgorouki.

The latter is still one of Miss Cavalieri's staunchest friends and his name has been often mentioned during the Cavalieri-Chanler controversy.

ABOUT TOWN.

The funeral took place this morning from the parlors of Connolly and McKinley of Maurice T. Toews, who was a partner of Dr. Shearer V. S., in the big sales stables on Queens avenue. He was aged 36 and leaves a young widow. He came here three years ago from Huntington, Que., but was a native of Westport, Ont., where his parents still reside.

Born—To Mr. and Mrs. C. Lionel Gibbs, 513 Sixteenth street, a son, 19th Alberta Mounted Rifles A squadron, give their second dance of the season on Monday 15th inst., in separate school hall.

Owing to the fact that one member was too interested in political meetings to attend, while another was ill at his residence there was no meeting of the health board last evening.

NORWOOD BAKERY

Ladies and Gentlemen: We are now making a specialty of the manufacture of the staff of life. To make a success of any one line of goods, it must be specialized. Since our bakery was opened two and a half years ago our growth has ever been steady and our motto has been "in the front." We are now supplying fifteen hundred loaves of bread a day to the people of Edmonton. We hope in the coming year, by the use of the very best materials to further improve our product so that at the end of the year we can shout aloud: "Excelsior."

ELECTORS OF EDMONTON

Edmonton, Dec. 9, 1910. At the Municipal Elections which will be held on Monday next, Dec. 12, I am a candidate for Aldermen and would respectfully request your influence and vote.

At no period in the history of Edmonton has there been greater need of good business methods in the management of civic affairs than the present.

I am making no pre-election promises, but I can assure you, that if elected, I will serve you to the best of my ability.

My record as a business man I place before you as my qualification. Again soliciting your Voice and influence.

I remain, Yours respectfully,
T. M. GRINDLEY.

FRATERNAL ORDER OF EAGLES

The regular session of F. O. E. No. 1052, will be held Saturday evening, December, 10th, at 8:30 P.M. sharp, in the Friendship Hall, I.O.O.F. Norwood Block.

Business: Election of Officers for 1911; Initiation (several candidates); Social Session.

Visiting members specially invited to co-operate and assist.

By Order,
JOSEPH A. CLARKE,
Worthy President.
C. J. BRODERICK,
Worthy Secretary.

Mrs. Broadus of Strathcona, will give a reading in the Y. W. C. A. parlors on Tuesday, December 13, at 8:30 p.m. This reading will be from Mrs. Broadus' new book, "On the Christ Child," which is just being published. All women are invited to attend.

Capital Liedman and Lieutenant Toth, of Neepawa, Manitoba, arrived in the city last evening to take charge of the Salvation army work in Strathcona.

The concert given by the Dixie Jubilee singers in McDougall's Methodist church last evening was well attended. All the humor and pathos of which the old time dirks was capable were embodied in the different selections rendered.

NOTICE.

A mass meeting under the auspices of the Trades and Labor Council, will be held in the Mechanics hall, Third street on Saturday at 8 p.m., to which all aldermanic candidates have been invited. The meeting is for discussion of municipal questions with special reference to the Householders franchise question.

FIVE MINERS KILLED. Bochum, Prussia, Dec. 9.—An explosion of fire damp in the Holland mine today killed six miners. Five were seriously injured. One is missing.

Pittingham, which was loyal to Joseph Chamberlain. The tariff reform victory there was a personal one.

The British international trade enabled that of France, Germany, Greece, and Japan. He said that the government felt certain that they could make the parliament bill law as soon as they returned to the House of Commons.

Speaking at Salisbury, Lord Milner complained of the apathy of the electorate. He admitted that there was some justice in the ministerial complaint that the House of Lords was impotent when the Tories were in power.

The Unionists were not now fighting to effect a change of government, but he urged every nerve should be strained in fight for fundamental institutions of the country and real popular freedom.

Speaking at Old Drury, Austen Chamberlain said he became a tariff reformer not on account of the condition of English trade, but because representatives of great nations growing up under the British flag across the oceans saw in the trade federation of the empire the easiest way to closer union, because they wished to advance along that line and because, if Britain joined them they offered us a preferential entry into their markets.

FIFTEEN BILLS PASS YESTERDAY

House Established a New Record in Work of Committee of the Whole

Premier Sifton gave notice in the legislature yesterday afternoon that he would move for committee of supply on Monday next, when he will read his budget speech. The estimates will be printed and brought down probably tomorrow.

The house surpassed their record yesterday and put through fifteen bills in committee of the whole. They were the four city charters, Edmonton, Calgary, Strathcona and Medicine Hat, the bill respecting the town of Macleod; the bill respecting the chartered accountant's institute, the bill respecting the village of Stalford, the bill respecting the Royal Alexandra Hospital, the bill respecting the city of Wetaskiwin, the bill respecting the Lacombe and Blind Man's Valley Railway and the Lacombe, Bullockville and Alx Railway, the bill respecting noxious weeds, the bill respecting the manufacture of butter and cheese, the bill respecting the Alberta and Northwestern Railway, the bill amending the school ordinance, the school assessment ordinance and the school grants ordinance.

The bill respecting the Alberta and Northwestern gives an extension of two years time to that railway company, a company incorporated in 1906, with the following as directors, D.

McArthur, E. F. Getchell, C. R. Mitchell, now attorney-general, N. B. Hicks, now judge Hicks, and E. C. Emery.

The Edmonton Royal Alexandra hospital bill, which provides a new organization for the hospital, was finally passed by the legislature last evening.

A Pretty Picture

Is an ornament anywhere, but a photograph is more life-like and true to nature.

We take the most Natural Photographs because we study the art from a scientific standpoint and have the science which comes from experience only.

Get some photos for Christmas and you will never regret it.
